THE
R A T E S
 OF
 His Maiesties
C U S T O M E S,

As the same are now established by His MAJESTY, with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Commissioners of his MAJESTIES Thesaurary and Exchequer: to be payed by Natives and Strangers, for all Goods and Merchandise Imported or Exported to and from the Kingdom of SCOTLAND: According to the subjoined Alphabet of the saids Rates, and Instructions for regulating the raising of the same.

TOGETHER

With the Act of Parliament, concerning Custom and Excise, and Imposition on Tax and Iron; With the List of all Unexcisable Goods.

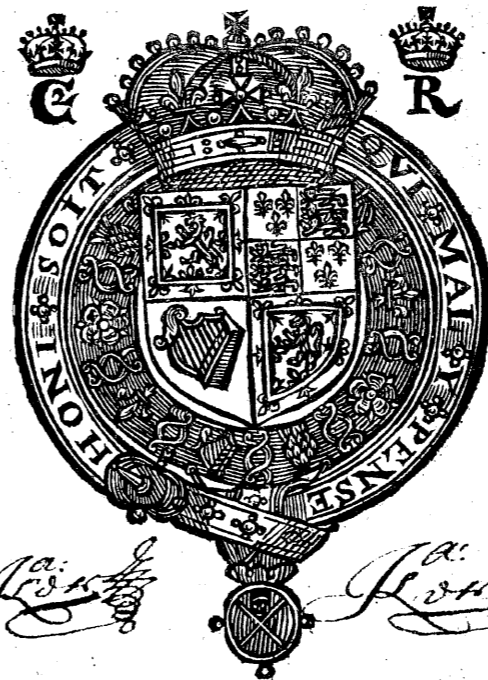

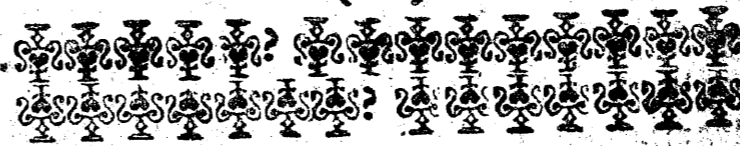

AND

The Act Concerning BULLION.

EDINBURGH.

Printed by Andrew Anderson, Anno Dom. 1670.

CUM PRIVILEGIO.

CHARLES R.

CHARLES, by the Grace
of GOD, KING of Great
Brittain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, To Our Lovits.

Our Heralds, Pursevants, Macers,

and Messengers; Forasmuch as by the 57th Act of the first Session of Our first Parliament of our Ancient Kingdom of Scotland, the Lords Commissioners of our Exchequer are thereby warranded to establish a New Book of Rates for Our Customs; As also by the 27th Act of the third Session of our said Parliament, It is declared, That the ordering and disposal of Trade; with forreign Nations, doth belong to Us and Our Successors, as an undoubted Priviledg of Our Crown; And that by vertue thereof We may so order and dispose of forreign Trade, as We shall think fit for the good of Our said Kingdom: And being desirous, that the Trade thereof be so ordered, as may be most for Our Interest, and the good & ease of our Subjects; And considering how necessary it is, for that end, that the Rates of Our Customs, which have been heretofore most unequal, by reason of the great difference of the true value of Goods at present, and of late, from what they were

were many years ago, should be now regulated and stated, as We may have Our Custom paid, and Our Subjects may not only be ascertained what they have to pay, but also find a considerable ease of the proportion of the Customs, formerly due from the Native Commodities of Our said Kingdom, at the exportation thereof. Therefore We, with advice and consent of the Commissioners of Our Thesaurary & Exchequer, having taken the Rates of our Customs into Our Consideration, and having also had therein the opinions of some Persons of good knowledg and interest in the Trade of Merchandise, have thought fit to settle and determine the Rates of Our Customs, to be, in all time coming, according as they are set down in the Alphabet thereof; and such Goods and Merchandise, as are not contained therein, that they pay twelve pennies upon each pound value: And that the same Rates be raised and managed conform to the Acts of Parliament, and Instructions

 Instructions subjoynd to the said Alphabet. And to the effect all our Lieges may have timous Notice thereof, It is Our Will and Pleasure, that these Presents, with the Rates of Custom and Instructions, be Recorded in the Books of Our Exchequer, and Printed, and Published at the Mercat Cross of Our Burgh of Edinburgh, and other Places, needful. Given at our Court at White-Hall the 4th day of March 1670. years,
 and of Our Reign the 22d.

By His MAJESTIES Command, Lauderdail.

According to the 14 Act of His Majesties 2d Parliament, and first Session thereof, there is to be exacted ten shillings upon each barrel of Tar, and twenty shillings upon each Tun of Iron, Imported, and that besides what is Imposed upon the same by this Book of Rates; Which is in contentation of the diminution upon exported Grain, which by the said Act is brought from four pounds the Chalder to thirteen shillings four pennies.

Certain

Certain Rules, Orders, Directions, and Allowances, for the Advancement of Trade, and Encouragement of the Merchant, as also for the Regulating as well of the Merchants, and Skippers, in making their Entries, and just payments of their Customs, as of the Officers, in all the Ports of this KINGDOM, in the Faithful discharge of their Duty.

I.

That none of the Collectors Deputy-Collectors, Surveyors, Waiters, or any other person or persons, imployed in, and about the Custom offices, use any kind of Merchandise or Trading by Exportations forth of this Kingdom, and Importations to the same, by themselves, by partners, or by any for their behoof; And that none of them vent or tap any Wines, strong Waters, Beer or Ale, under the pain of losing their employments, whereunto they and their Cautioners are to be bound accordingly, upon acceptation of their respective Commissions.

II.

II

EVery Merchant shall have liberty to break bulk, in any Ports, allowed by the Law, and to pay Custom and duty for no more than he shall land; Provided that the Master, or Purser of such Ships, shall first make declaration upon Oath, before any two principal Officers of the Port, of the true contents of the Ships, lading; and shall likewise after Declare upon Oath, before the Customer, Collector, or Surveyor, at the next Port of this Kingdom where his Ship shall arrive, the quantity and quality of the Goods landed at the other Port, where Bulk was first broken; and, to whom they did belong.

III

All Foreign Goods and Merchandise first imported, may be again Exported by any Native within twelve moneths. And such Merchant, or Merchants as shall Export any such foreign Goods or Merchandise, shall have allowance, and be repayed by the Officer, which received the same; the one moyety of the Custome and whole Excize, which was paid or secured at the first Importation of such foreign Goods and Merchandise, or any part thereof, so as due proof be first made by Certificate from the Collectors or Officers of the due entry, payment, and security of the Custom and Excize of all such foreign Goods inwards, together with the Oath of the Merchants Importing and Exporting the same, affirming the truth thereof, the name of His Majesties Searcher, or under-Searcher in the Port of Leith, and and of the Searcher of any of the Out-Ports, testifying the shipping thereof to be exported. After all which duly performed in manner before expressed, the moyety and subsidy first paid inwards, shall without delay or reward, be repayed to such Merchant, or Merchants, who do export such Goods or Merchandise, within one moneth after: As also all foreign Goods imported, which are entered in the Custom-Office at Leith, allannerly wholly to be exported as they were imported, the same is declared altogether free of Custom or other duties; Provided alwaies the said Goods at importation be secured under Lock and Key, and the Key delivered to the Officers of the Custom-house, and the Goods to remain there till the exportation of the same, the Merchant giving his Oath at the exportation, they are wholly exported as they were imported, without breaking of Bulk,

IV.

If any Merchant having paid all duties inwards for foreign Goods, and in regard of bad sales be enforced to keep the same, or any part thereof in his hands, after the space of twelve moneths is elapsed; in this case he, or any in his name, is permitted to ship the same for beyond Seas (if he or they think fit) without payment of any Duty upon the same, upon due proof that the same was duly entered, and Duty paid at importation.

V.

That all Masters and Mates of Ships make their Report upon Oath, that they have (82)

no other Goods nor Commodities on Shipboard, than what is contained in their Bills, Reports and Cockquets of the marks and parcels above-mentioned; that they have not broken Bulk in the Scottish Seas: and if in any other Seas, that they declare in what place, what the Goods were, and to whom they did belong, and that their Oath and Bills be subscribed, and marked with their marks where they cannot write; and both to be recorded, which are to be attested by the Collectors or their Deputies.

V I.

THat all Masters and Mates, whether Natives or Strangers, produce their Bills and Cockquets to the Custom-Office within twenty four hours after their arrival at the Port where the Office is: and likewise, to condescend positively upon the particular quantity, with the several Marks of all the Goods contained in their Ship, and Merchants name to whom they do belong, or are directed to, and of the quality of the said Goods, so far as they know.

V I I.

THat no Entries shall be made or taken at any Custom-Office within this Kingdom, of Spanish Wines, Canaries, Tents or Malages &c. in lesser Casks than Butts or Half-Butts; nor Rhenish, Brandy or French Wine, in lesser Casks than Puncheons, Hogsheads, Tertes, and half Hogsheads: Ordaining all quantities of such Wines or Liquors as shall be found in lesser Casks than said is, to be confiscate; the one

one half to His Majesties use, and the other half to the informers, and the masters to be fined in the summe of two hundred merks.

V I I I.

THat the Merchants, trading into any Port of this Kingdom, have free liberty to load or unload their Goods at any lawfull Keys and places of Shipping, and landing of Goods betwixt Sun-rising, and Sun-setting, from the tenth day of September to the tenth day of March; and betwixt six of the Clock in the morning and six of the Clock in the evening, from the tenth day of March to the tenth day of September; Giving notice to the respective Officers that are to attend the loading and unloading of Goods: And such Officers or Waiters as shall refuse, upon due calling to be present, shall forfeit for every fault the summe of threescore pounds, the one moyety to the King, and the other moyety to the party aggrieved. And all Goods laded before or after that time abovementioned, without licence from the Collectors, not only to be confiscate, but the skipper to pay the summe of two hundred pounds, besides imprisonment: And if it be done without the masters knowledge, in that case the master may, and is hereby impowered to detain the aforesaid Fine off the Sea-mens wages, without prejudice of these who are innocent, to pursue the guilty as accords of the Law; the one half of the Goods so seized, and the Fine so imposed to the King, and the other half to the Informer.

G 2

I X.

IX.

Also, for the speedier dispatch of Merchants and Skippers, the Officers, who sit in the Custom-house, shall attend the service of their several places, from ten to twelve of the Clock in the forenoon, and from two to four of the Clock in the afternoon in the Winter-time; and that from the tenth day of September till the tenth day of March, and from nine of the Clock to twelve of the Clock in the forenoon, and from two of the Clock till five of the Clock in the afternoon from the said tenth day of March till the tenth day of September. And likewise, the Clerks of the Cockquets are hereby ordained every week-day to attend at the Custom-house from eleven to twelve of the Clock in the forenoon, and from two to three of the clock in the afternoon, for the dispatch of Merchants and Skippers: And in case of their absence, the Collector is hereby authorized and impowered to grant Cockquets to the said Merchants or Skippers; And in all time coming discharges any Cockquets to be given but at His Majesties Custom-Office, and that no more be exacted then forty shillings, conform to the Act of Parliament.

X.

And if any merchant Native within this Kingdom, shipping abroad Goods for beyond Seas, and having paid all duties thereof outwards; & so it is that if the said Goods and Merchandise shall happen to be taken by either Pirats or men of War,

or be lost or cast away at Sea, in that case it is hereby declared that the Duties upon the said Goods so paid, upon due proof that the same was so lost or cast away, shall, without delay or reward, have the said Duties repayed back again to the party who owed the said goods, within a moneth thereafter, or else shall have the like value allowed to him, upon some other Entry, at any time thereafter.

XI.

That the Collectors of any Office of His Majesties Customes and Excise shall not exact above twenty three shillings four pennies for the report of a whole Ship, and not above twelve shillings for each Entry, of whatsoever quantity and quality the goods be; and not above twelve pennies for each Transire, of whatsoever quantity and quality the goods be. And that all goods, sold by any Merchant within Edinburgh to any person or persons within the Countrey, shall need no other Transire, save only a Certificate under the Merchants hands who sold these goods, bearing the quantity and quality of them, and the time and place where the said goods were entered, for payment of His Majesties Duties; and that no other Dues be exacted from any Merchant or Skipper, by any collectors, Clerks of Cockquets, or their Serjeants, but what is provided by their rules.

XII.

That no master or mate of any Ship, coming into this Kingdom from any part beyond Seas, shall permit any Goods or Merchandise to be laded

G 3

aboard

aboard their Ship, but what they take a particular account of the severall marks and parcels, and that they give particular Bills of lading to every merchant or other persons whatsoever, for what they shall happen to lade, bearing the parcels and marks positively, and the quality, so far as they can: of which Bills of Lading, the master or mate are to take the just double, to give in to the Collector of the Port he comes to, at the making his report. And if it shall be found that there is any goods aboard the Ship than what is contained in the said Bills so to be given in by him, they are to be made seisure of: Providing alwayes, that if any merchant or other persons shall have their goods made seisure of, either by or through the master or mate, their willfull or negligent leaving out of his or their Bills of lading and report. Any parcel of goods appertaining to any merchant or merchants or others whatsoever, without their special warrant and knowledge, the owner of the said goods so prejudged, shall have Repitition and satisfaction from the master or mate, where they are able, and otherwise the Ship it self to be liable for the true value of the goods so seised.

Observe, Of all Native Commodities exported out of this KINGDOM, the merchant is to have allowed him six score for each hundred.

ACT.

ACT

Concerning the Excise and Customes.

Edinburgh, 15 of December, 1669.

As much as many debates, questions and inextricable difficulties do and may arise, in levying and bringing of the Excise imposed by the fourteenth Act of the first Session of His Majesties first Parliament, to the great prejudice of His Majesty, and of the Trade of this Kingdom: Therefore, and for preventing and clearing of the same, and to the effect, the said Excise may be more orderly and easily levied and collected, His Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estate of Parliament, Statutes and Ordains, That notwithstanding the said Excise is due and payable by the Retailers, yet the Importers shall be liable for the same in time coming, at the Rates contained in the said Act, for Wines of all sorts, Vinegar and Salt, as they are particularly expressed therein, and that under the provisions after-specified: To wit, that what shall not be paid by the Retailers, shall be compleatly made up

up by the Importers, within twelbe Months after the importation thereof, for which they are to give sufficient security to the Farmers or Collectors of His Majesties Excise, at the entry of the saids Wines, which are to be according as they Ordain, That the Collectors or Farmers of His Majesties Excise in all time coming, shall grant abatement to the said Importers of the fourth part of the said Excise-duties of all Wines and Vinegar imported and entred by them, in consideration and upon the account of leakage and decayed Wines, and other hazards and inconveniences. And further, It is Statute and Ordained, for the encouragement and greater ease and advantage of Trade and Merchants, that the Importers of all other Goods and Commodities, except what is excepted from the duties of Excise by the foresaid Act of Parliament, shall pay the Excise thereof according to the Books of Rates for His Majesties Customs, and as the said Commodities are and shall be valued and rated in the same; And if any of the saids Commodities be not contained in the Books of Rates, the excise of the same is declared to be 5. per cent according to the value of the said Goods; And the Excise of the said Commodities is to be payed at the entering of the same in the Excise-Office, unless the said Excise-duty exceed the sum of an hundred Merks Scots; in which case, the said Importers shall be obliged to give sufficient security for payment of the said Excise-duty, within six Months after the entering of the same; they making it always evident, that no no Merchant shall make entry of any Goods, but what properly belongs to himself. And for further encouragement of Trade and Traffick, It is Statute and Ordained, that all Goods and Merchandise whatsoever imported, and which shall be instructed to be really exported, within twelbe Months after the entering thereof, shall be free of Excise; and in case of payment thereof the same shall be repayed at the exportation of the said Commodities, the Importers always making faith, that the commodities exported, are the same which were imported and entred; and in case bond or security hath been given for the Excise of the said commodities, the same shall be returned unregistrate, or discharged if the same be registrate. And for the regulating of the Excise of Salt, and the better lyeing and inbringing of the same, His Majesty, with consent foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, that the Importers of foreign Salt of all sorts, at their entering of the same at the Excise Office, shall give sufficient security for payment of the Excise thereof conform to the Rates contained in the foresaid fourteenth Act, and that the Importers shall be obliged by the said security, to pay the said respective Excise-duties, for such parcels of the said Salt as shall be retailed, when and as the same shall happen to be retailed, and to pay compleatly the whole Excise of the said Salt, within twelbe Months after the entering thereof, and that whether the said Salt hath been expended and imployed upon the curing of Fishes or not; Prohibing always, there be abated and allowed to them, the Excise of all Salt

Salt that shall happen to be cast away at Sea; And likewise, the Excise of Salt expended upon Fishes, that may happen to be cast away betwixt one Port and another, before the same be entred, to be exported out of this Kingdom, the weight and quantities of the Salt or Fishes lost thereby, being always sufficiently instructed. And further, it is Ordained, that all In-land Salt, consumed within this Kingdom, whether the same be expended upon Fishes or employed otherways, shall be liable to the duty of Excise, express in the said Act, which shall be payed by the first buyer thereof, and that before it be carried from the Salt-pans where it is bought; And albeit it be provided in manner foresaid, that the Excise-duties respective above mentioned, should be payed for Forraign and In-land Salt, whether the same be employed upon Fishes or otherwise; and that in respect of the great difficulties, to clear and make appear what Salt is employed upon Fishes or not; and that His Majesty may be prejudged of the Excise of Salt, upon groundless pretences, that the same hath been, or is to be employed upon Fishes; Yet nevertheless, His Majesty being most willing to give all due encouragement unto the Trade of Fishing, and that whatsoever Salt shall be employed and expended in order to the said Trade, and upon the curing of Fishes to be exported, shall in effect be free of Excise, and upon, and after mature and exact consideration of the quantity of Salt necessary and sufficient for each Last of Herring and White-fish of any kind, and of each Last of

Salmond, and what the Excise of the same Salt respective will amount to, finding that the Excise of the Salt of the Last of Herring and White-fish, will amount to the sum of ten pounds 4.s.Scots, & that the Excise of the Salt of each Last of Salmond, will amount to the sum of twelve pounds money foresaid. His Majesty, with consent foresaid, Statutes and Ordains, that there shall be no Custom exacted at the exportation of the saids Herring and White-fish; and that whatever the foresaid ten pounds four shillings of Excise, shall exceed the Custom payable for the said Herring & White-fish exportation thereof, shall be duly and timely payed to the Merchant exporters: without any delay, reward or abatement for each Last of Herring and White-fish of any kind whatsoever that shall be exported out of this Kingdom: And that the foresaid sum of twelve pounds, for the Excise of the Salt of each Last of Salmond, at the entry and exportation shall be payed to the Heritors, Life-renters and others, from whom the Merchant exporters bought these Salmond, they alwayes producing Certificats from the respective Heritors, or others making up the just quantities contained in their entries; upon which Certificat, the foresaid sum of twelve pounds is to be payed, to the Heritors and others from whom these Salmond were bought, or to any having their warrant to receive the same; which sum respective above-written, for the Herring, White-fish and Salmond, are to be payed in manner above specified, by the Collectors at the respective Ports where where

where the same shall be entered, for whom, the Farmers and principal Collectors of the Excise are to be answerable and careful that the same shall be punctually payed; and in case of not punctual payment, they shall be liable for the parties damage; providing alwayes, that the said Herring, White-fish and Salmon, be duly entred in the Excise-Office, and the exportation thereof sufficiently instructed to the Collectors, so as they may certify the same under their hands. Likewise, His Majesty, with advice foresaid, doth inhibit and discharge the Collectors or Farmers of Excise, upon any pretext, to give any ease or abatement of the fourty shillings Scots imposed by the foresaid fourteenth Act upon ilk boll of forraign Bay-salt, Linlithgow-measure, imported into this Kingdom: Certifying them, if they contraven, the saids Collectors shall suffer deprivation of their Office, and the saids Farmers shall lose the benefit of their Lack of the Excise, and shall be further liable to the payment of such fines and penalties as the Lords of Exchequer shall think fit to inflict; And for the better bringing in of the Excise of the said In-land Salt. It is Ordained, that all Owners of Salt-pans and their Greaves, shall be obliged to exhibit and produce to the Collectors or Farmers of Excise or their Deputies when they shall be required, their Compt-books of all Salt sold, to be perused by them, and returned within the space of twenty four hours, to the effect, it may be known what Salt is consumed, and that the Excise of the

the same is duly payed, whereupon they are to make faith, if they be required, and that they have sold noz disposed upon no more noz is contained in the said Books: And likewise, the Salters of every Salt-pan shall be obliged to give an account to the Collectors of the said Excise of the Salt appertaining to them any manner of way, and what they have sold of the same, and to instruct, that the same hath been duly entred in the Excise-Office, and that the Excise-duty of the same hath been payed, whereupon, and that they have sold no more then what hath been duly entered, they are ordained to make faith if they be required; It is alwayes provided, that where Excise-Offices are in the Town or place where the Salt is made, the Salt-masters, their Greaves or Salters, shall be holden to repair to the Excise-Office, to the effect foresaid, if they be required; but if there be no Excise-Office in these places, the Collectors or Farmers of Excise or their Deputies are appointed to conveen them at the respective Salt Circualls, or Salt-pans where the Salt is made, and the saids Persons shall not be obliged to go any further. And in like manner, His Majesty considering, that others questions and debates may arise, anent the interpretation of several Acts and Priviledges made and granted in favours of Manufactories, for immunity and exemption from the Excise and Custom of certain Goods, which are the Materials of the said Manufactories: Doth hereby, with consent foresaid, Statute, Ordain and Declare, that that no Manufactory shall have the benefit thereof, excepting such as shall be, or hath been lawfully erected since the first day of January, one thousand six hundred sixty one years, and shall be found by the Lords of His Majesties Exchequer to have been, or to be erected conform to the Acts of Parliament, and to have the qualifications required by the same. And further, His Majesty understanding that if after so large expressions of His Majesties Royal care and tenderesse for the advancement of Trade and ease of Merchants, any shall be so unfaithfull as to presume to conceal & abstract the Goods imported by them, thereby evading the payment of Custom and Excise due and payable to His Majesty: not only His Majesty will be prejudged of His Custom and Excise- but also the Trade of Merchandise will be much endamaged by the said Merchants their underselling others, who do honestly make true entries of their Goods, and pay the duties of Custom and Excise. Therefore, for preventing the said prejudice and abuse, His Majesty, with consent aforesaid, doth give power and warrant to the Collectors of Custom and Excise, or to their Deputies to call and pursue such persons who shall willfully and wickedly conceal and abstract their Goods, or any part thereof, and not duly enter the same or who shall be accessory, or any wayes aiding and assisting to the concealing or abstracting thereof; and that before the Lords of His Majesties Exchequer, if the said persons dwell and reside within twelve miles of the place where the saids Lords shall happen to sit for the time, or, in their opinion, before any other competent Judge: And in case the saids persons live at farther distance, it shall be lawfull to the said Collectors or Farmers, or their Deputies, to pursue them before the Sheriffs, Stewarts of Stewartries, or Bailiffs of Regalties, Magistrates of Burghs, or any other competent Judges, who are hereby required to take due and speedy tryal of the premises, and to admit probation thereof by writ, witness, oath of party or otherwaies according to Law, any Act or Acts of Parliament, or Clauses therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithstanding. And to the end, that His Majesties Lieges and Merchants, upon the occasion and pretence foresaid, be not unjustly molested and troubled, It is Ordained that the saids Proccets and Pursutes shall be intended within three moneths after the fraudulent abstracting and imbezeling foresaid; and that these at whose instance they shall be pursued, shall be obliged to give their oaths de calumnia, if thereto required, that the saids pursutes are not intended of malice, but upon credible information, and that they have just reason to pursue, as they conceive. And in case any Merchant, Skipper, Mate or Mariner, or other person shall be found guilty of, or accessory to, the said imbezeling, in concealing or abstracting any Goods which ought and should have been entered; It is Statute and Ordained, that the said delinquents shall be imprisoned for the space of twenty four hours, and untill they make payment of the full price and value of the Goods which shall be found to have been abstracted by them, and shall be further fined by the Lords of His Majesties Exchequer as they shall see cause. And in case any Goods shall be found and seised, upon account that they were concealed and not duly entered, they shall not only be detained and confiscate without redemption; but also the owners of the said Goods, and all others who shall be found to be accessory or aiding to the concealing or abstracting of the same, shall be imprisoned for the space of twenty four hours, and such fines and other punishment shall be imposed and inflicted upon them, as the Lords of Exchequer shall appoint. And that the Collectors of His Majesties Customs and Excise and their Deputies, at the making their accounts of their intromission with the Custom and Excise-duties, shall be holden and obliged to give their oaths upon the truth of these accounts to be given in by them. And it is Prohibited and declared by His Majesty, with consent foresaid, that the foresaid Act of His Majesties first Parliament, whereby the Excise is imposed, shall stand, and is and shall be of full force; except in so far as the same is altered, in what, qualified and taken away in manner above-mentioned.

ACT

ACT

Concerning the

BULLION.

Edinburgh, the 8. of December, 1669.

Our Soberaign Lord considering, that by divers former Acts of Parliament made by the Kings Majesty and His Royal Ancestors, and specially by the thirtie seventh Act of the first Session of His Majesties first Parliament, it is Statute and Ordained, that all and whatsoever Commodities yearly exported forth of this Kingdom, should be payable to the payment of Bullion, twelve denier fine according to the quantities contained in the Alphabet of Bullion thereto adjoined, and that for the yearly support of a stock of Coinage within the Kingdom, and for supplying of his Majesties Mint, being a part of His Prerogative Royal. And His Majesty and the Estates of Parliament, being still willing to support and encourage the same, and to provide vide for all necessary wayes and remedies for increasing the stock of Coinage within the Kingdom, and especially those that may be of most advantage, and may most encourage the Manufactories and the natural growth and native Commodities of the Kingdom; and finding, that the removing of the Bullion from the whole native Commodities and others exported forth of this Kingdom, and that the imposing of the said Bullion upon the Commodities imported, or some considerable part thereof, may very much contribute thereto; And being resolved, that His Majesties said Mint should be hereby encouraged, and that no hurt or derogation should thereto occur by this change. Therefore his Majesty, with advice and consent of His Estates of Parliament, Declares, That all and whatsoever native Commodities of this Kingdom, and others that shall be exported forth thereof, contained in the foresaid Alphabet of Bullion, after the second day of February next to come, one thousand six hundred and seventy years, shall be free, and are hereby discharged of the payment of all quantities of Bullion therein contained: And the Customers and their Deputies are hereby prohibited and discharged to take surety or pledges, or to use any other exaction upon the Merchants therefore, under all highest pain. And His Majesty, with advice foresaid, Rescinds and Annuls any Clauses contained in the foresaid thirty seventh Act of the first Session of His Majesties first Parliament, or in any other Acts of Parliament, in so far aslanerly as the same imposes Bullion upon the native Commodities of this Kingdom and others to be exported forth thereof, and no further: And in lieu and place thereof, Statutes and Ordains, That the imported Goods and Commodities underwritten be liable in payment of the several quantities of Bullion aftermentioned, viz. Spanish, Rhenish and Brandy wines of all sorts, each Tun twenty four ounces, twelve denier fine; French wines of all sorts, each Tun twelve ounces; Loaf-sugar the hundred weight, six ounces; Playing-cards, one ounce the grace; Paper for Printing and Writing of all sorts, one ounce every six reams; Gray paper, every twelve reams one ounce; Deals, every thousand five ounces; Single-trees, every thousand five ounces; Double-trees, every thousand ten ounces; Double-double-trees, and all other greater Fir-timber, every thousand twenty ounces; Steel, every 100. weight one ounce; Iron and Iron-work beaten of all sorts, every Tun two ounces; Orons and Apples, every two Barrels one ounce; Gum-bar, every Barrel four ounces; Prunes, every Tun four ounces; Raisins, Currants and Figs, every Tun ten ounces; Iron-pots of all sorts every Dozen one ounce; Soap, every barrel two ounces; Sugar-Candy every hundred weight ten ounces; Copper-kettles, Bras-pans, and all other made work in Brass or Copper, Petline or beaten, every hundred weight four ounces; Gader, every thousand weight five ounces; Hats of all sorts, every three dozen two ounces; Colindaro-glass of all sorts every Chest one ounce; Limons and Oranges, each thousand one ounce; Hops of all sorts, every hundred weight weight one ounce; Spanish-leather, Parikin Tanned-leather, Wild-leather, and all other sorts of Leather except Muscovia-leather, every hundred weight one ounce; Globes of all sorts

 each dozen one ounce; Whale-bone or Baline, ilk two hundred weight one ounce. And Statutes and Ordinances, That the Merchant or other importers of the abovesaid Commodities or any of them, make ready payment of the foresaid quantities of Bullion hereby imposed, to the Officers of His Majesties Mint for the time, being of the fineness of twelve Deniers, and being vaser to be considered by weight and reckoning, and that immediately upon the entry of the saids Goods; And in case the said importer shall fail to pay in the said Bullion at his entry, he shall be holden and astricted, to make payment of the sum of twelve Shillings Scots for ilk ounce thereof, to the Collectors, at the Port or Precinct where he enters the said Goods;
 and which maney is payed by him at his entry,
 shall be redeemable from the saids Collectors, upon the payment of the foresaid quantities of Bullion into the Officers of his Majesties Mint:
 Prohibing alwayes, such payment of Bullion be made within forty dayes, after the date of the entry of the Goods, and not thereafter. And it is hereby Declared, That it shall not be lawful to the said Lack-men, Collectors or their Deputies to permit the saids importers to break Bulk,
 or to give them Warrants or other warrant thereanent, till first the saids importers reports or produce the Mintmasters receipt of the due quantity of Bullion payed in specie, or else, that
 the

the Lack-men, Collectors or their Deputies, receive payment of twelve Shillings Scots for ilk ounce of Bullion not delivered into the Mint;
 and for ilk ounce of Bullion of twelve Denier fine, so payed into the Mint in specie by the importers, he is to have delivered back to him in His Majestys Coin three pounds ten pennies Scots and for ilk ounce of eleven Deniers fine, he is to have delivered back to him fifty five shillings nine pennies cots, and so proportionably conform to the fineness of the Bullion given in and that in satisfaction of all Dues whatsoever, that can be acclaimed by the Officers of the Mint, for his Majesty or otherwise. And whereas,
 by the former Acts of Parliament made anent Bullion, the general Lack-men and Collectors of the Customs and their Deputies, were bound and obliged to take sicker Surety or Pledges, such as they would be answerable for, for the Bullion to be brought in, and which then lay upon the export, and that what restid not delivered to the Mint, the saids Lack-men, Collectors and their Deputies, were to be answerable therefore; and that by the constant practice of His Majesties Exchequer, the saids Lack-men and Collectors, by their Lacks and Commissions given to them, and obligations granted by them, are bound to make count, reckoning and payment of the whole Bullion then arising upon the export of this Kingdom. And lest his Majesty or His said Mint should sustain any hurt or prejudice, or be at any uncertainty by losing of these bonds, or by this change, wherefore it is hereby Statute and ordained, that all general Lack-

Tack-men of his Majesties Customs of this Kingdom, general Collectors of the same and their Deputies, present and to come, shall be, and are hereby bound and obliged, virtute Officii, and by the acceptation of their Tack of Office, to make count, reckoning and payment to the Officers of His Majesties Mint, of all and whatsoever quantities of Bullion that shall yearly arise upon the imposed Commodities aforesaid, and which shall be delivered by the Merchant in specie; and also to make payment of all such sums of Money, as shall be payed by the Merchant to them, in place of Bullion at the foresaid rate of twelve Shillings per ounce to the General and Master of the Mint for the time being, and that quarterly; beginning the first quarter payment at the time of Whitunday next one thousand, six hundred and seventy, and so forth yearly and quarterly thereafter. And whereas, the saids Tack-men, Collectors or their Deputies, were formerly holden and obliged to give in exact accounts of the whole Commodities exported yearly forth of this Kingdom upon Oath; whereby the full charge of the Bullion was yearly known; and to the effect, that the full charge of the Bullion now imposed upon the foresaid Commodities imposed, may be also fully known: It is hereby Statute and Ordained, That the saids Tack-men, Collectors or their Deputies at all the Ports or Precincts within this Kingdom, shall give in yearly in Exchequer the exact account of the several quantities of the Commodities, whereupon Bullion is hereby imposed, and that upon Oath, at

at the feast and terme of Martmas yearly: As also, to exhibit & produce the subscribed Entries by the Merchants of the foresaid Goods imported; and for that effect, that letters of Writting be directed against the said general Collectors, Tack-men & their Deputies, by the Lords of His Majesties Exchequer upon a charge of six daies: And it is hereby Declared, That the saids Tack-men, Collectors or their Deputies shall be holden and obliged to deliver to the importer, Certificats of the foresaid Bullion in specie, or of the Money payed therefor at the rate foresaid, gratis. And whereas, by the meaning of this Act, it is left in the option of the importer, either to pay Bullion in specie, or to pay Money for the same, at the rate of twelve Shillings per ounce, and that the Money so payed is to be delivered to the General and Master of the Mint, by the saids Tack-men, Collectors and their Deputies, & thereby the said General & Master are obliged to import the stock of Bullion themselves: Therefore, it is hereby Statute and Ordained, that the saids Officers shall be obliged to Coin the said Bullion so imported by them, and to make the same pass His Majesties Treasurie, and that the saids Officers be controuled by their Letter of receipt of the said sums of money granted by them to the saids Tack-men, Collectors and their Deputies. And it is hereby Declared, That the foresaid whole Commodities imported after the foresaid day, shall be liable to the several proportions of Bullion above specified, notwithstanding of any Act or Acts of Parliament formerly made, or to be made

made in this present Parliament in favours of any Manufactories, Companies of Fishing or Trades, or Acts whatsoever, which are hereby Declared not to impede the payment of Bullion imposed upon imported Goods for aids in manner above mentioned.

Observe, that the Certificate, to be given by the Merchants, for Goods sold out of Edinburgh, according to the eleventh Instruction, be marked and seen go out of Edinburgh, by the Surveyor, or any of the Waiters at the Ports.

Item, That the piece of Cairseys Inwards is to contain only twenty Ells.
