Sir ROBERT WALPOLE.

S I R,

Perfuate myself there is fo much Propriety in Dedicating a Work of this Nature to You, that I have no Occafion to make an Apology for fo doing.

And as little need, I think, is there of any on account of the Performance itfelf; for fould it have the Credit of your Approbation,
it

iv DEDICATION.

it would be univerfally allowed not to want an Apology, and if the contrary, not to deſerve one.

With the greateſt Humility and Reſpect, I therefore, Sir, addreſs to You this my Attempt, to render the Collecting a very material Branch of the Cuſtoms more Eaſy and Convenient.

I am, Sir,

Your moſt Devoted, and

moſt Obedient Servant,

HAVING had the Honour to be employed in His Majesty's Customs for ſeveral Years, and obſerving all the Wine Tables hitherto publiſhed to be more or leſs defective, I flattered myſelf I ſhould do the Publick an acceptable Piece of Service by printing the following Ones (the Produce of ſome Years Application) which were contrived for my own Eaſe and Diſpatch, as being more Simple, Methodical, and Compleat, than any of the former; (ſince I had Thoughts of publiſhing them) calculated as well for the Uſe of Merchants and other Dealers in Wine, as the Cuſtom-Houſe-Officers.

I have carefully avoided the Perplexity and Difficulty of all the former Tables: I have expreſſed every thing neceſſary to make an Entry appear at one View: I have compoſed ſeparate Tables for every different Species of Wine imported into, and exported out of Great-Britain; I have diſtinguiſhed the Places where Wines imported are charged with greater or leſſer Duties; and I have ſo diſpoſed them, that not only the Total of the Duties which each Entry is liable to, will appear at one View, but alſo the Name of the Port, the Quantity, the Species of the Wine, and every Circumſtance and Variety of Entry that can happen in Practice; by which Method three or four Entries may be ſooner made, than one by any former Method.

The P R E F A C E.

And for the Satisfaction of those who are not well versed in these Matters, I have prefixed an Abridgment of several Laws and Rules relating thereto, as also several Forms established in the Custom-House for the Dispatch of Business: I have added likewise, some Explanatory Tables; and Examples, to which the Reader is referred, as well as to the respective Parts of the Body of the Work itself, for the Use of the Tables, and such other Particulars as are not self-evident, or obvious enough.

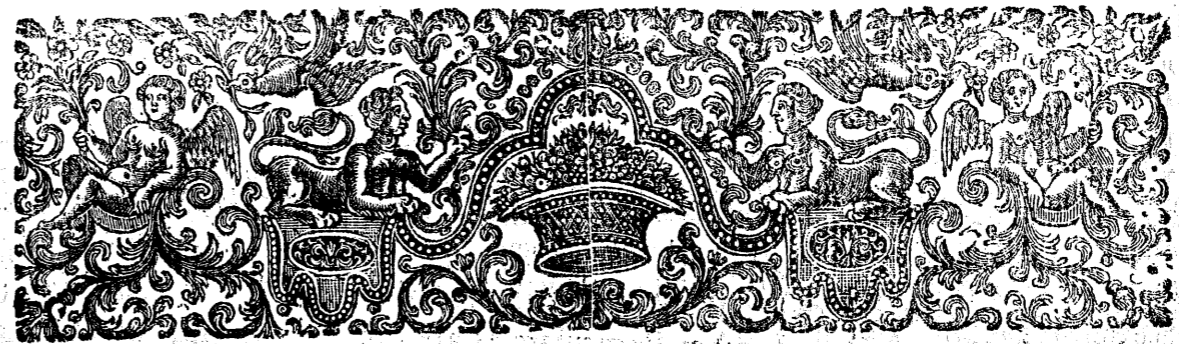

In former Tables, the Method has been to compute the Duties separately, or (if ready computed, as in some) there was a Necessity to pick them out from several Places, at the Expence of much Time and Trouble.

How well I have avoided these Inconveniencies, and succeeded in the other Particulars proposed, must be left to the Judgment of every impartial Reader.

In a Word, let no body (how little conversant soever in these Things) be discouraged by any seeming Difficulty, but with Pen in hand, take an Example and prove the Usefulness of the Tables. As they were chiefly calculated for the Wine Merchants, Collectors, and other Persons concerned in the Wine Trade; if they should prove agreeable to the Majority of them, I shall think myself Happy, and my Time and Labour well rewarded: And as it is impossible a Work of this Nature should be free from Errors, I hope the candid Reader will be so good as to excuse them, the utmost Care having been taken to avoid them.

The Form of the Entries and Oath of Wines Imported.

As there is a great Variation in the Impost Duty of Wines, according to the particular Circumstances of Entry, as for Example, for Merchandize, private Use, or Retailers; it was thought absolutely necessary, for Security to the Crown, and likewise for the great Ease of the Merchant, to prevent all Mistakes, that at the Time of Entry, Proof must be made by Oath on the Warrant Bill, either by the Merchant Importer, or his Agent, whether the Wines therein mention'd, are imported for Sale, private Use, or Retailer; and likewise, whether imported by British, or Stranger, the Form of which Proof must be as in the following Examples, viz.

Table with 4 columns: Item, Old Subsidy, New Subsidy, and Total. Rows include various subsidies, Addit. Duty, Impost, Coinage, and Total.

When Wines are imported by a Retailer, or Vintner, an Oath is not required, because they are then charg'd with the highest Duty, having no Advantage of any Discount out of the Gross Impost Duty, by Virtue of the Act which granted the same; and it is not allow'd, that any profess'd Vintner, or Retailer, enter Wines any otherwise, than for Retail, tho' they may be the Property of a Merchant, and are only consign'd to them to be sold by Wholesale, as Merchandize.

As soon as the Collector, Customer, and Comptroller, have computed the Duties on their respective Bills or Copies, as in the foregoing Example, and have agreed the same, the Collector is to receive the Duties, whereupon he is to insert them on the Bill subscrib'd by the Merchant, &c. which having been number'd as the said Officers Copies were, he is to sign it, and then deliver it to the Customer and Comptroller, to be sign'd by them also; after which, the said Bill is to be directed to the Surveyor, and the particular Land-waiters appointed to the Ship, as a Warrant for their Examination, and Delivery of the Goods, so that the Bill, produced by the Merchant, when form'd into a perfect Warrant, will be as follows, viz.

* All Wines, after having been regularly enter'd, and the Duties paid, if the Merchant, upon the Delivery thereof, find them to be so damag'd, corrupt, or unmerchantable, that he judges they will not bear the Payment of the Duties, but is willing to deliver them up into the Custody of the Officers of the Customs, in order either to be distill'd into Brandy, or made into Vinegar; besides a Certificate of Over Entry for the Repayment of the Duties; an Example of which, I shall set forth below for the Reader's Satisfaction, that he may have a clear Notion of the Forms to be observ'd in the passing of them; the Merchant is to have allow'd him, (after a publick Sale of those refus'd Wines, in Compensation for the Freight, and other Charges, which the Merchant have been at, upon Account of the Wines for which they have refus'd Payment of Duty, and have deliver'd up to the Use of the Crown) the Net Produce of such Sale; but not to exceed Four Pounds for every Ton of Wine of the Growth of France and Germany, and Eight Pounds for every Ton of all other Wines; provided they were imported in Casks, on board Merchant Ships directly from the Place of their Growth; or the usual Place of their first Shipping, or were saved from stranded Ships; and therefore, when a Ship has taken in Wine at the Place of its Growth, and then proceeds to some other Place, or Places, to take in the Remainder of her Cargo, so that having loaded Goods at more Ports than one, it may be questioned whether the Wine was taken in at the real Place of its Growth, Proof thereof must be made by the Master of the Ship in the following Manner, for the entitling the Merchant to receive the Compensation allow'd on the above Terms.

A. G. Master of the Ship the Hope of London, lately arrived from Jamaica, maketh Oath, that the three Casks of Wine consign'd to Mr. J. B. of this Port, were actually taken on board at Alicant, and that they had not been landed, or taken out of the same, since they were first shipped at Alicant, till regularly unladen in this Port.

Sworn before me, 29th

B. D. Collector. Sign'd, A. G. Master.

For the Payment of the aforesaid Allowance or Compensation, a Certificate must be made out, and executed after the following Manner, viz.

These are to certify, that G. H. Merchant, has refus'd to pay, or secure the Duties of five Casks of Wine, as being damag'd, corrupt, or unmerchantable, imported by him in the Diligence of London, whereof G. S. is Master, from Oporto; which said Casks were on the third Day of April, 1735, gaug'd, and found to contain Six Hundred and Twenty Eight Gallons of Wine, and then received into the Custody of proper Officers of the Customs, together with the said Casks, and put into proper Warehouses, to be publickly sold, in order to be distill'd into Brandy, or to be made into Vinegar, pursuant to the Acts passed in the Sixth and Twelfth Years of the Reign of his late Majesty King George the First.

N. B. But if the Produce of the Sale of such Wines, don't arise to the Amount of the aforesaid Allowances; the Merchants are then to receive for the Compensation of their Freight, only the Amount of such Sale. After the Sale of such Wines, the Merchant is to be paid no more than the above Allowances according to the Species of Wine sold.

These are further to certify, that the said Five Casks of Wine were on the Fifteenth Day of May 1735, publickly sold, and Security is given, that the said Wine shall be distilled into Brandy, or made into Vinegar, and that the Wine, consisting of six Hundred and twenty eight Gallons, being regauged on Delivery out of the Warehouses, the Produce thereof, according to such Sale, amounts to Fifteen Pounds Seven Shillings, for which the said G. H. is, over and above the Duties, to be allowed as a Compensation for the Freight, and other Charges of such Wine, not exceeding eight Pounds for every Ton, in Pursuance of the said Acts.

I. PRISAGE

I. PRISAGE and BUTLERAGE.

1. * PRISAGE, is a certain Taking or Purveyance of Wines to the King's Use, out of every Ship bringing in Wines, belonging to the Natives of England, except those particularly hereafter exempted; being the only Duty or Custom that was antiently payable for the same to the Kings of England: † And that the King's Butler might not take more than was really necessary for the King's Use, the Steward of the King's House, and Treasurer of the Wardrobe, were to send the certain Quantity to all the Ports in England, the which he was to take within Ten Days.

This Duty is not due till the Unlading, or breaking of Bulk; for the Words are, De qualibet Nave importante Vina & disonerante, inde. So that the Breaking of Bulk, or the Landing of any Part of the Cargo, subjects the Ship to the whole Duty, according to the Quantity on board, though there be not more than One Ton landed: Therefore, when there are any Wines on board, designed for foreign Parts, the Master should distinguish them in his Report, from those which are to be landed in England: and when Prifage is taken at any one Port, and the Ship proceeds to another, the Collector of that Port should be acquainted thereof, by noting it on the Back of the Master's Report, to prevent its being taken again.

This Duty is either Single or Double.

Single Prifage is One Ton, and is due in kind, when the Quantity imported amounts to, or exceeds Ten Tons, but is under Twenty Tons: for if under Ten Tons, there is not any Prifage due.

Double Prifage is Two Tons, and is due in kind, when the Quantity imported amounts to, or exceeds Twenty Tons, which is the most due out of any one Ship: One Ton to be taken before the Mast, and the other behind the Mast, at the Pleasure of the King's Butler, or Prifage Master; who may taste the whole Cargo, and chuse the best Wines, and fill up the Vessels, or chuse those that are the fullest, and take them away, allowing only || Twenty Shillings, per Ton for Freight; or if the Owners had rather, he may compound with them for the whole Quantity at a certain Price, as is the Practice in London, and most other Ports.

But Note, if any Merchant brings in, to the Quantity of above Nine, or Nineteen Tons, be it but a Tierce, or upwards, whereby to evade the Payment of Prifage, he is liable to the same, as if the full Quantities of Ten or Twenty Tons had been imported. Or if any Ship, brings to the Quantity of Prifage at several Times, within the Compass of the same Vintage, this Duty is due as if all those Quantities had been imported all together; or if any Merchant enters any Quantity of Wines, in several Bottoms at the same Time, or at several Times, within the Compass of the same Vintage, in the whole Quantity, amounting to Prifage, the same is due, as if imported in one Bottom, and at one Time.

But

But King Edward the Third, by his Charter, dated 6 Martii, Anno Regni Primo, granted a Discharge from Prifage, to the Mayor, Commonalty, and Citizens of London, in hæc Verba, Quod de Vinis Civium, nulla Prifa fiat, sed perpetuè inde essent quieti, &c. which was afterwards allowed in the Exchequer; though it is not every Citizen that is capable of this Exemption, but only those that are resident within the City, being Freemen, and House-keepers, paying Scot and Lot; for he that would claim the Benefit of this Discharge, ought to be Civis & incola Commorans: for upon Complaint, that the Lord Mayor of London made Strangers Citizens, it was declared by an Act of the 24th of Henry the Sixth, (a private Act) that the Discharge from Prifage should not extend to such Citizens, as were Donati, made Free, but only to such as commorant, incolant, and are resident in the City. And not only the Merchants of London, but also of the Cinque Ports, Southampton and Chester, are exempted from Prifage, by particular Charters; yet if an Inhabitant of any other Place, should consign Wines to be delivered and landed at any of those Places, the bare Discharge of the Goods will not acquit the Importer; for it is not the Party's Importation, but his Domicil that exemps him.

2. * BUTLERAGE, is a Duty of Two Shillings for every Ton of Wines, for which Freight is to be paid, brought into this Realm by Merchant Strangers, (being a Composition, in Lieu of the Duty of Prifage, payable in kind by English only, and from which Strangers were exempted) in Consideration of the Liberties, and Freedoms first granted by King John, and afterwards by King Edward the First, to all Merchants Strangers, by these Words, in a Charter called † Charta Mercatoria, concesserunt de quo libet Doleo Vini quod adducent, vel adduci facerent, infra Regnum, &c. solvent nobis & Hæredibus nostris, nomine Custumæ, duos Solidos, &c.

With regard to these Duties of Prifage and Butlerage, it must be observed, that if || Wines are entered in another Man's Name, in order to defraud the King of the Duty; the Penalty is double the Value of the Prifage, and all the Offender's Goods, and Chattels personal for ever; provided the Prosecution be within Three Years: And that  the Collector, Comptroller, and Surveyor, are not to take any Man's Entry of Wine, till he hath produced the Butler's, or his Deputy's Bill, testifying that he hath seen the same. And though by the †† Act of Tonnage and Poundage, a Subsidy and Additional Duty were laid upon all sorts of Wines imported, yet as the Prifage of Wines, or Prife Wines, were exempted from those Duties, and also from Payment of the Coinage Duty, the Duties of ||| Prifage, and Butlerage were still continued and confirmed to be paid in like manner as before.

Though Prifage, and Butlerage (which were originally the only Duties due upon the Importation of Wines) were taken and received for the proper Use of the Crown; yet for many Years past, the Kings of England have been pleased to grant the same to some Nobleman, who, by Virtue of his Patent, or Grant, is to enjoy the full Benefit and Advantage thereof, and may cause the same to be levied, and collected in the same manner as the Kings themselves might, and were formerly wont to do, and under the same Pains and Penalties.

The present Patentee, or Proprietor of these Duties (except for Wales, and the County of Cornwall) is the Duke of Cleveland and Southampton, who appoints a Deputy in every Port, (usually the Collector of the Customs,) to levy and collect the same for him, in the best Manner he can, by taking the Prifage either in Kind, or in making a Composition; the latter whereof is the most usual Method.

And when Prifage is compounded, it is by paying a certain Rate per Ton, according to Agreement made with the Prifage Master, for all the Wines on board each Ship, liable to this Duty; but as there is a Difference, in favour of the Prifage Master, between the Customs, and other Duties due to the Crown, which are to be paid by him and the Merchant, so that if the Merchant compounds, and enters the Quantity for Prifage, which, if taken in Kind, must have been entered by the Prifage Master, he will pay less Duty to the King for the said Quantity; therefore in this Case, over and above the Composition aforesaid, such Difference, in the Duties, must be allowed to the Prifage Master, unless the Composition be at such a high Rate as shall be equivalent.

Ports, and by whom Imported.	Circumstance of Entry, as in Casks, &c.	Number.	Branches.	Net Duties fill'd.			Net Duties unfill'd, always in Casks.			Variety of Entries, of the Species of Spanish, Portugal, Madera, and Levant Wines, explained.
By British in Out Ports.	In Casks.	6	New Subsidy	4	1	0	3	10	2	8	By British in London for Prizage, for One Ton of Spanish, Levant, and Madera. To be paid for One Ton of the above Wines when enter'd for Prizage. In Bottles, or Flasks. For One Ton of the Levant Wines, when enter'd for Prizage. By British in Out Ports, except the Cinque Ports Southampton, and Chester, which are exempted by particular Charters. To be paid for One Ton of the above Wines. In Bottles, or Flasks. For One Ton of the Levant Wines, when enter'd for Prizage. N. B. The Rules to be observ'd in the Collecting of the Prizage Duty, and all the Regulations concerning the same, viz. what Ports are exempted from it by particular Charters, and likewise what Persons those Charters free, and who are liable to pay this Duty in all Ports. Vide Page (21.) N. B. I have insert'd in the foregoing Tables of Explanations, all the various Circumstances of Entries that can happen in any Port in the Kingdom, according to the Laws now establish'd; as also what Additional Duty and Impost is to be paid when secur'd for Sale, being the most frequent in Practice. In all other Circumstances of Entry, the Additional Duty, and Impost for Prizage may be secur'd, but seldom or ever happens in Practice, and therefore I have omitted inserting them; but if at any time the Reader would know what is the total Amount to be paid for those kind of Entries when the foregoing Duties are secur'd, he must subtract the Additional Duty, and Impost of the Nature of the Entry he is upon, from the Additional Duty and Impost, when secur'd, which will appear to him at the first Sight, in my Table of the Explanation of the Duties, Page 26 and 27, and the Differences that arise, add to the Sum Total of the Nature of the Entry he is upon, and that will give him the total Net Amount what is to be paid, when secur'd. And that the following Tables might not be more voluminous than useful, I have omitted inserting the Duties payable when secur'd, there being Bonds seldom or ever given for those Duties bondable under a Ton, the Sums payable being so small. My Readers having them for one Ton of all Species of Wines in the Tables of Explanations, I refer them there when Occasion offers. N. B. Left any one should not clearly understand what is meant in my Tables by treble for the Subsidies, which I express'd so for Brevity sake, is as follows at large; Wines are liable to four Duties called Subsidies, viz. Old Subsidy, New Subsidy, $\frac{1}{2}$ Subsidy, and $\frac{2}{3}$ Subsidy, which four Duties are included by taking one Subsidy three times, the $\frac{1}{2}$ d and $\frac{2}{3}$ ds making one Subsidy; but on the Bills of Entry they must be put down separately, being differently applied. Vide Tables of Explanations. The One per Cent. in my Tables, is the Mediterranean Duty, and is only payable on the Levant Wine, therefore the Total Sum against it is to be paid when an Entry is made of Levant Wine.
