FROM THE

SELECT COMMITTEE,

TO WHOM IT WAS REFERRED TO EXAMINE AND STATE THE SEVERAL

ACCOUNTS, AND OTHER PAPERS,

PRESENTED TO THE HOUSE IN THIS SESSION OF PARLIAMENT,

RELATING TO THE

Public Income and Expenditure :

AND ALSO, TO REPORT TO THE HOUSE

What may be expected to be the ANNUAL AMOUNT of the said INCOME and EXPENDITURE in future.

R E P O R T, &c.

The COMMITTEE appointed to examine and state the several Accounts and other Papers presented to the House in this Session of Parliament, relating to the Public Income and Expenditure; and also to report to the House what may be expected to be the Annual Amount of the said Income and Expenditure in future,

HAVING proceeded to the Consideration of the Matters referred to them by the House, have arranged the several Papers relating thereto under distinct Heads, containing the different Articles of the Public Income and Expenditure.

But before they enter on the First Part of their Report, they think it necessary to premise, that they have confined their Examination to the present State of the Revenue, as it appears either from the Amount actually received in the Periods contained in the Papers referred to them, or from the best Estimates which they could form of the Produce of such Articles as had not been brought to Account in those Periods, but compose, nevertheless, a Part of the present Income of the Public. The large Amount of Taxes imposed since the Commencement of the late War, in Addition to the then sub-fisting Revenue ; the Difficulties under which the different Branches of our Commerce laboured during the Continuance of that War ; and the great and increasing Prevalence of Smuggling previous to the Measures recently adopted for its Suppression, appeared to Your Committee to render any Averages of the Amount of the Revenue in former Periods in a great Degree inapplicable to the present Situation of the Country : On the other Hand, they did not think themselves competent to discuss the various Contingencies which may in future operate to the Increase or Diminution of the Public Income. A Revenue so complicated in its Nature, and depending so much on the various Branches of an extensive Commerce, must always be liable to temporary Fluctuations, even although no Circumstances should arise to occasion any permanent Alteration in its Produce. Your Committee have, therefore, judged it proper to submit to the Wisdom of the House this extensive Consideration, and to state in this Report the present Amount of the Public Income, as resulting from the Papers before them.

SECTION

SECTION I.

THE Net Produce of the different Branches of Revenue, paid into the Exchequer in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785, appears to have been as follows, viz. (Appendix A. No. 1.)

Customs	-	-	-	£. 4,520,820
Excise	-	-	-	£. 5,282,342
Stamps	-	-	-	£. 1,157,549
Incidents	-	-	-	£. 1,360,809

Total - - £. 12,321,520

But Your Committee find, that in this Period there had been paid by the East India Company a Sum, for respited Arrears of Customs, amounting to £. 401,118 ; which Sum, as not resulting from the regular Course of the Revenue, is to be deducted from the Total above stated. (Ap. A. No. 2.)

The Average Net Payment into the Exchequer, for Ten Years, ending at Michaelmas 1785, of the Duties imposed by the 6th of His present Majesty on Houses and Widows, amounted annually to (Ap. A. No. 3.) £. 418,497, nearly.

It appears, however, that the gross Charge, according to the Account laid before the House, of the last Assessment for England, was only (Ap. A. No. 4.) £. 401,397

But this Account not including the Returns from the Surveyors of Eight Districts, Your Committee have added a Sum proportioned to the Amount of the Returns for those Districts in 1784 (Ap. A. No. 5.) £. 12,805

making in the Whole £. 414,202

From which must be deducted the Salaries of the Commissioners, Clerks, and Surveyors, and the incidental Expences of this and all the other Duties under the same Management ; the whole being charged to the Account of this Duty (Ap. A. No. 6.) £. 19,916

And

[8]

Brought over — — — £. 19,916
 And also the Charges of Management on this Duty, amounting at $6\frac{1}{2}d.$ in the Pound, to (Ap. A. No. 6.) — — — £. 11,218

£. 31,134

The Remainder will be — — — £. 383,068
 To this must be added the Produce of the said Duty, which may be expected from Scotland; the Net Payments of which amounted, on the Average of 10 Years, ending Michaelmas 1785, to (Ap. A. No. 3.) 5,871 nearly.

Making in all — — — £. 388,939
 But the Sum received on this head, in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785, appears to have been (Ap. A. No. 3.) — — — £. 435,128

The difference therefore between that Sum and the Amount at which the present
 Produce of this Duty is estimated above, must be further deducted from the Amount of Taxes received in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785.

This Difference is — — — £. 46,189

It should be observed, that this Account is framed on the Assessments for the last Year, and that no Credit is taken for the Surcharges, which will probably be much more than sufficient to balance the Amount of Discharges, or other accidental Deficiencies. Some Estimate of the Surcharges may be formed from the Papers in the Ap. A. No. 7 and 8.

These two Sums of £. 401,119, and £. 46,189, being deducted from the Total Receipt above stated, will leave a Sum of £. 11,874,213.

To this are to be added the further Sums which have accrued, or may be estimated to be the Produce of any Part of the present Revenue, not brought to Account in that period.

SECT. II. IT

[9]

SECT. II. IT appears that the Amount of the Assessment on all Inhabited Houses in England, for the Year ending on the 5th of April 1786, under the Act of the 24th of His present Majesty, was (Ap. B. No. 1.) — — — £. 492,555

But the Returns from the Surveyors of Eight
 Districts not being included in this Account,
 Your Committee have added a Sum proportioned to that assessed upon those Districts in the Half Year ending 5th April
 1784 (Ap. B. No. 1.) — — — £. 15,000

Total £. 507,555

To this must be added the Assessment for One Year in Scotland, which Your Committee have estimated, on the Assessment for the Half Year ending 5th April 1785, at
 (Ap. B. No. 2.) — — — £. 16,533

Making in the Whole — — — 524,088

From which must be deducted the Charges of Management; which, at $6\frac{1}{2}d.$ in the Pound, amount to (Ap. B. No. 3.) £. 14,194

The Remainder will be — — — £. 509,894

No Credit is here taken for Surcharges. The whole Sum paid to the Receiver General of the Customs, on this Head, and by him paid into the Exchequer, in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785, was (Ap. B.
No. 4.) — — — £. 129,838 nearly.

The Difference therefore between that Sum
 and the estimated Produce of this Duty, as above, must be added to the Amount of Taxes received for the Year ending
 Michaelmas 1785.

This Difference is — — — £. 380,056

SECT. III. IT

SECT. III. IT appears that the Amount of the Assessment on two Wheel and four Wheel Carriages, under the new Mode of collecting those Duties, was, for Three Quarters of a Year, ending the 5th of April 1786 (Ap. C. No. 1.) £. 107,849

Add One third ———— 35,949

Assessment for One Year — £. 143,798

But the Account of these Assessments not including 14 Returns, Your Committee have estimated their Produce (not thinking the Assessments for the House Tax proper for this Comparison) by the Proportion which the Assessments for the Servants Tax in those Districts bore to the whole Assessments for that Tax, when formerly under the same Management under which the Carriage Duty is now placed: (Ap. C. No. 2.)

This Proportion gives a Sum of — £. 7,818

And the whole will then be — £. 151,616

From this are to be deducted the Charges of Management, at 6½ d. per Pound, amounting to (Ap. C. No. 3.) — £. 4,106 nearly.

Which leaves the estimated Net Produce at £. 147,510

Add the Produce to be expected from Scotland, taken at the Average of Three Years Net Produce, under the Management of the Excise, upon which however there may probably be some increase under the present Mode of Collection, as is the Case in England (Ap. C. No. 4) — £. 8,500

Total estimated Produce of this Duty for One Year ———— £. 156,010

The Sum paid on this Account into the Exchequer, between Michaelmas 1784 and Michaelmas 1785, appears to have been (Ap. A. No. 1.) — £. 84,113

To which must be added, for Three 5 per Cents. payable thereon, pursuant to several Acts of Parliament ———— £. 12,616

Total paid in that Period — £. 96,729

The

The Difference, therefore, between that Sum and the estimated Net Produce of the Tax for One Year, under its present Management, must be added to the Produce, as above stated, of all the Taxes in the Year ending Michaelmas 1785.

This Difference amounts to — £. 59,281

It is to be observed, that in this Account also no Credit is taken for Surcharges.

SECT. IV. IN the Act of the 25th C. 43. of his present Majesty, for repealing the Duties on Servants, and for imposing new Duties in lieu thereof, it was provided, That £. 51,000 of the Produce of the Duties so imposed should be carried to the Account of the Duties imposed in 1777; from the Nature however of the Assessments under that Act, and the Period of their Commencement, no Payment had been made on this Account in the Year ending at Michaelmas last; but there (Ap. A. No. 1.) had been received, under the old

Mode of Collection ———— £. 21,041

Which Sum, together with Three Five per Cents. thereon, amounting to about — 3,156

makes — £. 24,197

There remains therefore to be added on this Account to the Produce of the Excise, for the Year ending at Michaelmas last — £. 26,803

SECT. V. THE Assessment of the Duties on Horses, under the Act of the 25th of His present Majesty, if taken for a Year, amounts to — (Ap. C. No. 1.) — £. 134,230

And that of the Duties on Waggons and Carts, under the Act of the 25th of His present Majesty, if taken for the same Period, amounts to (Ap. C. No. 1.) — £. 29,546

Making together — £. 163,776

To

To which may be added, for 14 Districts not returned, but estimated, on the proportion above stated with respect to the Carriage Tax (Ap. C. No. 2.) — — — — — £. 8,904

The Whole will then be — 172,680

From which must be deducted, for Charges of Management, at 6½*d.* in the Pound. (Ap. C. No. 3) — — — — — £. 4,677

Which reduces the estimated Net Produce to £. 168,003

Add for Scotland — — — — — 10,000

The Assessments not being yet come in, and that Sum being nearly in the Proportion of the Payments on the Carriage Tax from that Part of Great-Britain, computed as above;

Total — — — — — £. 178,003

And as it appears that there had been paid into the Exchequer, on this Account, in the year ending at Michaelmas 1785, for the Duty on Horses (Ap. D. No. 1.) — — — — — £. 106,853

And for the Duty on Waggons and Carts (D. No. 2) £. 14,321
Making together (nearly) — £. 121,174

The Difference must be added to the produce, as above stated, of all the Taxes for that Year

This difference amounts to — — — — — £. 56,829

SECT. VI. IN examining into the Produce of the Taxes imposed in the Year 1784 (exclusive of the Horse Tax) Your Committee observe that they had produced, in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785, the Sum of (Ap. E. No. 1.)
£. 482,042

But that in the Year ending January 5th 1786 the same Taxes had produced (Ap. E. No. 2.) — £. 563,220

As

As it appears reasonable, in this Instance, to consider the latter Period as affording a juster Ground for estimating the probable Annual Produce of Taxes so recently imposed, they have added on this Account, to the general Amount received in the Year ending at Michaelmas, a further Sum of £. 81,178, being the Difference between the two Sums above stated.

Many of these Taxes can perhaps hardly yet be supposed to have paid a complete Year's Produce into the Exchequer. Particularly it appears to Your Committee (by an Account from the Stamp Office inserted in the Appendix) that in Consequence of the Act of last Session for better collecting the Duty on Game Licences, there has been actually received by the Stamp Distributors, between 5th January 1785 and 5th January 1786, the Sum of (Ap. F. No. 1.) — £. 50,889

From this should be deducted the Charges of Collection (which Your Committee find cannot be yet accurately ascertained, but which may be estimated at rather more than 5 per Cent.) making about — — — — — £. 2,500

The Remainder will be somewhat above — £. 48,000

But in the foregoing comparative Statement, only £. 25,953 is included in this Account as paid into the Exchequer in the Year ending 5th January 1786. (Ap. F. No. 2. A. No. 9.)

The Difference therefore, being about £. 22,000, is to be added to the Sum of £. 81,178 above stated; making in the Whole about — — — — — £. 103,000

SECT. VII. YOUR Committee next proceed to state such Estimates as they are enabled to form on the Information which they have procured respecting the Produce of the Taxes imposed in the Year 1785. It was naturally to be expected that a very small Part of such Produce could have been received at the Exchequer previous to Michaelmas last; whatever therefore may appear to be the further Annual Amount of those Taxes, must be added to the other Articles of Annual Receipt.

C

The

[14]

The Amount of the Assessment in England to the Shop Tax, for Three Quarters of a Year, ending on the 5th of April 1786, is (Ap. C. No. 1.) — £. 55,481
 Add One Third for the remaining Quarter — £. 18,494

Assessment for One Year — — — £. 73,975
 Add for 14 Districts not returned, but taken at the Proportion which those Districts bore to the Remainder of the Assessments for 1784, under the Window Duty 6 Geo. III. (Ap. G. No. 1.) — 4,100

Total for England — — — £. 78,075
 Deduct Charges of Management, at 6½ d. per Pound (Ap. C. No. 3.) — — — £. 2,114

Remains — — — £. 75,961
 Add for Scotland, on the Proportion taken above, under the Article of the Window Duty 6 G. III. £. 1,164

Total Produce of the Shop Tax, no Credit being taken for Surcharges — £. 77,125

But if the Reduction which has been proposed this Session on different Parts of this Duty should be carried into Effect, Your Committee apprehend that it will diminish the above Sum by about a Sixth Part thereof;

They have therefore taken this Article only at £. 64,271

The Assessments on Male and Female Servants for Three Quarters of a Year, ending 8th April 1786, amount

to £. 91,424
 Add One Third as above (Ap. C. No. 1.) 30,475 nearly.

Total — — — £. 121,899
 Add for 14 Districts on the Proportion which those Districts bore to the whole Assessments on Male Servants in 1780 (Ap. C. No. 2.) — — — £. 6,627

Total Assessment for England £. 128,526

Deduct

Deduct Charges of Management, at 6½ d. per Pound (Ap. C. No. 3.) — — — £. 3,481
 Remains — — — £. 125,045

Add for Scotland, on the Proportion of the Average Remittance, for Three Years under the Excise (Ap. H. No. 1.) — — — 9,803

Total — — — £. 134,848

Deduct, for what is ordered by Act of Parliament to be carried to the Account of the Taxes of 1777, and for which Credit is taken above (Sect. 4.) — — — £. 51,000

Remains, Net Produce of this Tax £. 83,848

It is more difficult to form any Estimate of the Amount of the Remainder of the Taxes imposed in 1785. They are not collected by the Mode of Assessment; and the Sums which they have hitherto produced, in the short Period since they became payable, afford a very imperfect Ground for judging of their future Amount; especially as they are, for the most Part, Stamp Duties, and as a considerable Time always intervenes between the actual Receipt of those Duties in the distant Parts of the Country, and the Time of their being remitted to the Head Office in London.

It will obviously occur to the House, that this Circumstance must render Accounts of this Nature particularly defective, when they relate to Taxes so recently imposed.

Your Committee, having pointed out the Imperfection of these Accounts, will proceed however to state the best Computations they have been able to form thereon.

The Duty on Pawnbrokers consists in an Annual Licence for exercising that Trade, and took place on the 5th July 1785. There was paid at the Stamp Office in Town, and remitted from the Country, on this Account, in the Period between July 1785 and February 1786, both inclusive, being Eight Months, a Sum of (Ap. I. No. 1.) £. 3,740

the estimate of the difference between the actual and the assessed amount of the duty on pawnbrokers

Your Committee have added, as an Allowance for Money to be received in Town, and remitted from the Country, in the Remainder of the Year — 1,260

And have taken the Produce of this Duty at — 5,000

The Tax on Attornies consists in Part of an Annual Licence for the Persons exercising that Profession, and in Part of a Duty on Warrants for Licence to sue.

The Tax took place on the 1st November 1785, and in the Month of November 1785 there was paid on this Account, at the Office in Town, the Sum of £. 8,996 (Ap. I. No. 2.)

In the Three following Months there was paid in Town, on an Average, the Sum of £. 979 per Month.

Nothing was remitted in the Month of November from the Country on this Account. In the Three following Months there was remitted, in all, the Sum of £. 1,080.

Of the Payments in Town it appears that about £. 6,315 arose from the Produce of the Annual Licences in London, and about £. 1,283 from that of Annual Licences for Attornies in the Country; amounting together to £. 7,598. The Remainder, amounting to about £. 4,301, was paid for the Duty on Warrants to sue.

If, therefore, the whole Amount of Annual Licences to be received in Town is taken at £. 8,000, and from £. 8,000 to £. 10,000 be allowed for the Annual Amount of Warrants to sue, the whole Produce in Town would be from £. 16,000 to £. 18,000.

With respect to the Payments in the Country, the Accounts do not distinguish how much of them has been received for the Two different Branches of this Duty; nor is there sufficient Ground to estimate the future Remittances on the Average of those in the Three Months included in those Accounts; as it appears that the Remittance in the last Month is nearly equal to those in the Two others. Your Committee however conceive that the whole of this Duty, including the Remittances from the Country, may not improperly be taken at about £. 20,000.

On

On Account of the Glove Duty there was paid at the Head Office in London, in Seven Months,

ending February 1786	—	—	£. 3,410
Which gives an Annual Produce of (Ap. I. No 1.)				5,845
There was remitted from the Country in the Four last of those Months	—	—	£. 1,075
Which gives an Annual Produce of				£. 3,225
Total	—	—		£. 9,070

Which Your Committee conceive may be stated at £. 10,000, making Allowances for the Remittances not received from the Country, and from Scotland.

In the Act of (25 Geo. III. c. 63.) the last Session for reducing the Allowance for Waste on Salt, it was directed that £. 12,000 should be Annually set apart under that Head; Your Committee have not the Means of judging from any Accounts which they could procure, what may be the future Amount of this Duty under the new Regulation, but have stated it at the Sum taken in the Act, which is £. 12,000.

For the Purpose of stating more accurately the Produce to be expected from the additional Duty on Post Horses imposed in the last Session, as well as the old Duty on Post Horses, and that on Stage Carriages (both of which were then consolidated with the new Duty) Your Committee called for the annexed Return from the Stamp Office of the Produce of the Post Horse Duty imposed in 1780, from its Commencement to the Year 1785 inclusive. (Ap. I. No. 3.)

From these Returns it appears, that the Total Produce in London of the Post Horse Duty imposed in 1780 was nearly £. 144,705, and that the Sum of £. 408,143 was remitted from the Country in the same Period.

The Total Produce of the new consolidated Duty in London, for the Six Months, appears to have been £. 22,187, which is at the Rate of £. 44,374 a Year; the Annual Produce of the same including the Country, according to the Proportion above stated, would be £. 169,536; as, however, in the Year ending at Michaelmas, £. 96,000 nearly appears to have been received.

received under the old Duty on Post Horses; and as in the same Period it appears that about £. 23,000 was received for the Duty on Stage Carriages, these two Sums, amounting to £. 119,000, are to be deducted from £. 169,536, in order to give the expected future Produce, and will leave £. 50,000. (Ap. A. No. 1.)

Your Committee think it right further to observe, that an Improvement has also been made in the Revenue, in Addition to the Produce of the Taxes of 1785, by the Operation of the Act of the last Session for the better Collection of the Duty before subsisting on Medicines.

It appears by the Appendix, that the Produce was no more than £. 1,592 in London, in the Year ending the 1st August 1785, and that the Produce in the same District was £. 6,088 18s. 9d. between the 1st September 1785; when the new Law took Effect, and the 11th Instant; which is at the Rate of £. 13,274 a Year. (Ap. K. No. 1. and 2.)

It also appears, that the whole Amount of the Duty, in the Year ending 1st August 1785, was £. 3,860, of which £. 1,592 was paid in London, and £. 2,268 in the Country; supposing, therefore, the Produce in Town and the Country to bear the same Proportion, the Sum of £. 18,940 nearly may be expected to be raised in the latter, which, added to the Sum of £. 13,274, expected in London, will amount to £. 32,185, from which deducting £. 5 per Cent. for the estimated Charges of Collection, the Remainder will be somewhat above £. 30,000. (Ap. K. No. 3.)

The Difference between this Sum and £. 3,860 (being the former Produce) is about £. 26,000; this Sum, if added to the Taxes of 1785, as already stated, will make the whole amount to about £. 271,000, from which is to be deducted £. 6,175, so much having been paid in on Account of the Taxes of 1785, previous to Michaelmas in the same Year. (Ap. A. No. 1.)

The Remainder will be £. 265,000 nearly.

SECT.

SECT. VIII. IT further appears, by an Act of the 1st of His present Majesty, C. 1. that a Part of the Sum assigned by Act of Parliament for the Support of His Majesty's Household, to the Amount of £. 12,000, is paid by the Receiver General of the Excise before the Net Produce of that Revenue is paid into the Exchequer—This Sum is therefore to be added to the Head of Receipt.

And a sum of £. 2,000 paid by the Alienation Office is for a similar Reason to be included in like Manner.

They amount together to £. 14,000.

SECT. IX. THE Duties on Land and Malt, although they are Annual Grants, and form therefore no Part of the settled Revenue of the Country, appeared to Your Committee to be proper to be included in this Report, especially as the Services for which they are usually granted are hereafter inserted under the different Heads of Expenditure.

It appears, by the Account in the Appendix, that the whole Produce of the Land Tax for Seven Years, ending at Lady-Day 1782, being the last compleat Years of a Four Shillings Aid, was (Ap. L. No. 1.) — — — £. 13,380,599 To which is to be added, being the Amount paid on Account of the Militia in those Years, previous to the Payment of this Duty into the Exchequer, the Sum of (Ap. L. No. 2 and 3.) £. 392,954

Average of One Year	£. 1,967,650

The Produce of the Malt Duties for the same Period was £. 4,319,069, which would give an Average of £. 617,010

But in this Period is included the Year 1782, in which the Produce of Malt was uncommonly deficient. If the Average were taken on the preceding Six Years, it would amount to above £. 657,000; but if it is stated as low as £. 632,350, the whole Amount of Land and Malt would be £. 2,600,000.

‡ The

‡ The foregoing Accounts of the Public Revenue are formed on the Ground of the actual Receipts in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785, with such Alterations and Additions as the different Circumstances which have been stated relative to them appeared to Your Committee to require. But as it was thought important that the House should be informed what Difference would have arisen in the Result, if the calculations had been grounded on the Receipts of the Year ending in January 1786, Your Committee have investigated those Accounts, proceeding by the same Steps, and on the same Principles, which they have detailed to the House in stating the Particulars of the former Period. The Vouchers relating thereto are inserted in the Appendix, (Ap. A. No. 9 and 10, B. No. 4, F. No. 1 and 2.) And in order to place the whole Subject referred to them in the clearest Light, they have annexed to their Report an Abstract of the different Accounts, in which they have brought into One Point of View the Amount of the several Heads of Public Expenditure, as well as the Produce of the several Branches of the Revenue, as resulting from their Examination of the Two Periods which have been mentioned.

But they think it necessary to remark, that the Account to Michaelmas 1785 includes Fifty-three Days of Weekly Payment, and that Fifty-two only are included in the Account ending on the 5th January 1786. The House will, however, observe that as far as the Result of these Accounts differ, which they do not in any considerable Degree, that Difference is in Favour of the Revenue in the latter Period.

Your Committee having thus investigated the Amount of the several Articles of the public Revenue, proceed to state in like Manner the several Branches of Expenditure.

SECT. X. The Annual Interest and other Charges payable on the Public Debts, as they stood at the Receipt of His Majesty's Exchequer on the 5th of January 1786, amounted to £. 9,266,940. (Ap. M. No. 1.)

In Addition to this, the Interest at 3 per Cent. on £. 1,000,000 charged on the 6d. per £. on Pensions, by the Act 12 Geo. I. and the Charges of Management thereon, amount to £. 30,360. (Ap. M. No. 2.)

The

The Charges of Management on £. 10,999,651, £. 5 per Cent. Annuities, funded in 1785, were computed at £. 6,182.—These Sums amount in the whole to £. 9,303,482. (Ap. M. No. 2 & 3.)

But it appears to Your Committee, that since the Time of making up the Accounts which have been laid before the House on this Subject, a Diminution has taken place in the Charges of Management payable to the Bank of England, to the Amount of £. 24,853. If a similar Reduction may be expected in the Charges of that Part of the Public Debt which is under the Management of the South Sea Company, the total Saving will amount to £. 27,713. (Ap. M. No. 4.)

Which being deducted from the above Sum, leaves a Remainder of £. 9,275,769.

It is to be observed, that a Part of the Annual Payment to the Public Creditors consists of Annuities, which will gradually fall in at the Expiration of the Terms for which they were granted. An Account of these, stating the Dates at which they were respectively created, and the Periods at which they expire, is inserted in the Appendix. (Ap. M. No. 5.)

Your Committee think it not improper to observe particularly that Annuities, to the Amount of £. 25,351, will determine on the 5th April 1787.

SECT. XI. YOUR Committee called for an Estimate of the Expence likely to be incurred under the Head of Exchequer Bills from the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury; which is inserted in the Appendix. (Ap. N.)

The future Charge on this Article, after the present Year, is there estimated at £. 258,000, subject to the Observation therein stated.

SECT. XII. THE Sum charged on the Aggregate Fund, and payable at the Exchequer for the Support of His Majesty's Household, is £. 886,000; and there is further paid, for the same Purpose, a Sum of £. 12,000 at the Excise, by an Act of the First of His present Majesty; and a Sum of £. 2,000 is paid at the Alienation Office, and makes Part of the Civil List. These Sums amount in the whole to £. 900,000.

SECT.

SECT. XIII. EXCLUSIVE of any Part of the Interest, and of the Charges of the Public Debts, and of the Sum paid towards the Civil List, there are other Payments charged upon and payable out of the Aggregate Fund. (Ap. O.)

They consist in Part of Annuities which will gradually cease; but Your Committee, not judging it proper to form any Estimate of such Diminution, have taken the whole at the present Amount thereof, which is £. 64,600.

SECT. XIV. IT appeared by the Papers referred to Your Committee, relative to the several Services of the Navy, Army, and Ordnance, that the Average of those Services respectively, for the Years 1766, 1767, 1768, and 1769, were as follows:

For the Navy, including the Expence of Ordnance for Sea Service (Ap. P. No. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5.)	£. 1,660,218
For the Army (Ap. Q. No. 1, 2, and 3.)	1,516,631
For the Land Service of the Ordnance (Ap. R. No. 1 and 2.)	287,165

The Expence on these several Heads for the present Year appear, by the Estimates now before the House, to be considerably larger; but Your Committee observing that these Expences may be expected to vary, and that many Particulars thereof must necessarily be reduced in future, have called for additional Statements from the several Offices; according to those Statements, which are annexed to this Report, the expected Average Expence of the several Services above mentioned, on a permanent Peace Establishment, appears to be as follows:

For the Navy, including the Expence of Ordnance for Sea Service (Ap. P. No. 6.)	£. 1,800,000
For the Army (Ap. Q. No. 4.)	1,620,000

But as in this Estimate no Credit is taken for the expected Diminution therein stated, in the Article of Bills of Exchange drawn from the Colonies and Plantations, and in the Half Pay and and Chelsea Out Pension, Your Committee conceive themselves justified in taking the Average Expence of this Department at £. 1,600,000

It is proper however to observe, that nothing is here allowed for the Expence arising from the Regiments in India; on which Account, in the Extraordinaries presented this Session, there is charged a Sum of £. 77,944, which is not included in the Sum above stated.

The East-India Company being to pay a certain Sum for every Regiment in India, by an Act of the 21st of His present Majesty, this Charge is in Fact only a temporary Advance, for which the Public will have Credit to an equal Amount hereafter, whenever Remittances are made from India, and the Demands under that Act are brought to Account.

The estimated Expence for the Land Service of the Ordnance is £. 348,000. (Ap. R. No. 3.)

In stating the Total of these Services, Your Committee think it necessary to take Notice, that various Charges are included, on Account of Half Pay, Chelsea Out Pensioners, and other Allowances of a similar Nature, amounting in the whole to £. 683,325.

SECT. XV. THE Annual Charge incurred on Account of the Militia, for the Years 1775, 1776, and 1777; the last three Years of Peace in which the Militia was trained and exercised, appears, by the Accounts referred to Your Committee, to have been, on an Average, £. 128,000 nearly.

But they conceive that, if the Reductions which have been proposed in this Session in the Expence of this Branch of the National Service should be carried into Effect, the whole will amount in future only to about £. 91,000; at which Sum they have accordingly taken it, subject however to such Variation as may arise from any Alterations in the Plan which is now under the Consideration of Parliament.

SECT. XVI. THE Expence of the different Articles usually included under the Head of Miscellaneous Services is stated in the annexed Estimate thereof (which has been received by Your Committee from the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury) at £. 74,274. (Ap. S.)

SECT. XVII. IT appears by the Account in the Appendix, that a Part of the Annual Produce of the public Revenue is not applicable to the Payment of any Part of the Interest of the National Debts, or of the general Services of the Country, but is appropriated to certain special Purposes, not included under any of the foregoing Heads of Charge. (Ap. T.)

The Amount of the Taxes so appropriated forms therefore another Article of Expenditure. They appear to have produced, in the Year ending at Michaelmas 1785, £. 66,538.

There are some Charges on the Post Office, and other Offices of Revenue, arising from different Grants and Acts of Parliament, by which certain Annuities are made payable thereon: but, as these are issued at the different Offices of Collection, previous to the Payment into the Exchequer, Your Committee have not brought them to Account under the Head of public Expenditure; the Sums by which they are defrayed not being stated on the other Side as any Part of the public Receipt.

The Total of the several Articles above stated, composing the whole of the Annual Expenditure of the Country, amounts to £. 14,478,181.

There are some additional Articles, both of Expenditure and Receipt, of which Your Committee think it right to take Notice, though they have not inserted them in their Abstract, as considering them improper to be included in Accounts of the permanent Peace Establishment of the Country, and of its present Annual Revenue. The First Article of this Description, and probably the most considerable, consists of the additional Demands which may be made for the Service of the Navy, before it is put completely on the Footing on which the future Peace Establishment is calculated: These cannot be stated with Precision;

Precision; but it appears, from the Account delivered by the Navy Board, that the probable Amount may be from £. 1,200,000 to £. 1,600,000. (Ap. P. No. 6.)

In this Article no Provision appears to be made for the present outstanding Debt of the Navy: Your Committee find that on the 31st of December 1785 it did amount to £2,537,764; towards the satisfying which there remained to be applied £. 825,275: Remainder £. 1,712,489. But it is stated that from the Delay in calling for Payment of many of the Charges of which it is composed, a floating Arrear to this Extent may generally be expected to subsist; and as it neither bears Interest in its present Shape, nor will require to be funded, it cannot occasion, either in present or in future any Addition to the Annual Charge upon the Public. (Ap. U.)

Under the Head of Miscellaneous Expences, there may also arise some temporary Exceeding beyond the Annual Amount stated by the Committee. These, however, they conceive will for the most Part either be occasional, or at least of short Duration; but, from the Nature of this Head of Expence, it is impossible to foresee with Certainty the particular Demands.

The only Article to which Your Committee think it necessary, separately, to call the Attention of the House, is that of the Relief of the American Sufferers; but it is not for the Committee to determine what Sum Parliament may think proper to allot for this Purpose, either as temporary Relief, or when the Investigation of the several Claims shall have been completed.

From what has been stated, the House will observe that no accurate Estimate can be formed of the Total Sums which may arise beyond the average Amount of the Expences before stated, and which may therefore require a separate Provision. But upon the whole Your Committee conceive that the Means of defraying the Expences (exclusive of the average Income above stated) may be expected to be sufficient for the Purpose.

In the First Place, Your Committee have taken no Credit in the foregoing Statements for the Profits which may Annually be expected from Lotteries, whenever Parliament shall think proper to avail itself of that Mode of raising Money.

It

It appears that the Profit on the Lottery of last Year was nearly £. 140,000, this alone would be an Addition to the Annual Income, probably greater than the Sum which would be added to the Annual Expenditure, even on the Supposition of its being necessary to provide Funds for the whole Amount of the contingent Expences above stated. (Ap. W. No. 1 & 2.)

A further Sum may also be expected to arise for some Years to come, under the Head of Army Savings. It appears, by the Acts of Appropriation in several Sessions, that a Variety of Miscellaneous Articles of this Description, amounting in the whole to a very large Sum, were brought in Aid of the Army Services for several Years after the Conclusion of the War before the last. From the Extent of the Grants for Army Services in the Course of the late War similar Savings may naturally be expected, and probably to a larger Amount, as Provision has recently been made for a more speedy Investigation of all the depending Accounts.

A Balance is also due from the East India Company, for the Subsistence of Troops in India, and on Account of the Victualing of the Navy, pursuant to the 21st of His present Majesty, C. 65. The Propriety of applying to public Purposes a Portion of the unclaimed Dividends of the Funds (consistently with the strictest Regard to the Security of the Creditors of the Nation) and the Means of rendering the Crown Lands more beneficial than at present, are also Objects which seem to fall under this Consideration.

But, independant of the Articles which have here been stated, Your Committee trust that they shall not be thought to exceed the Limits of the Duty prescribed to them by the House, in observing, that the present subsisting Taxes, if the due Collection thereof could be secured by Measures adequate to the Purpose, would probably afford an ample Provision for any Deficiencies which may at any Time be found, either in these Resources, or in the Particulars which compose the General Income of the Public; and would insure a permanent Annual Surplus, applicable to the Reduction of the National Debt, in such Manner as the Wisdom of Parliament shall direct.

Appendix P. No. VI.

Navy Office,
20th March 1786.

An ACCOUNT of the Amount of any Extraordinary Expences included in the present Session, beyond what may be expected to be the Average (as far as the Committee are enabled to judge of the same) of the Services in that Department, on a permanent Peace, pursuant to a Precept of the Committee appointed to examine and state the several Accounts presented to the Honourable House of Commons, in this Session of Parliament, relating to the Navy, dated the 15th Day of March 1786.

N. B. This Account is prepared on a Calculation of a permanent Peace Establishment taking place towards the End of the present Session, why some Articles cannot be expected to diminish, and why others may.

Heads of the Grants.	Sums granted for 1786.	Estimate of Average Expence on a permanent Peace Establishment.	Reasons for the Continuance of the same, and for a Decrease or Increase.
N ^o Seamen, 18,000	£. s. d. 936,000 — —	£. s. d. 936,000 — —	Should the same Number of Men here stated be kept complete, the Expence of the Navy, will be generally found inadequate to the Expence, even in the most ordinary Provisions, but from its being subject to several Demands, not otherwise to be expected on this Head.
O R D I N A R Y.
Salaries to the Lords of the Admiralty and Commissioners of the Navy	47,492 8 1	47,492 8 1	There is no Probability of this Article lessening, as the Increase of Buildings, further Extensions of the Yards and Instruments, which will be necessary, will increase the Business.
Pensions	37,269 14 8	34,000 — —
Charge of the Yards	25,405 18 6	25,405 18 6	May be expected in the Course of a few Years to decrease to this Sum. There is no Prospect of any Diminution on this Head, for the same Reason. This Article is as low as can be expected.
Salaries and Pay of Officers of the Out Ports	4,508 6 11	4,508 6 11
Wages of Men borne in Ordinary	78,298 11 10	107,094 11 —	These Two Articles are dependent on each other, and cannot, under any Circumstances, be diminished; we are hopeful, however, that when the Works of the Fleet are finished, to reduce them to the Sum here stated.
Victuals to Men borne in Ordinary	33,795 19 2
Harbour Moorings	69,910 — —	62,000 — —	The Increase of the Fleet has naturally brought an Increase of Expence of Repair at present than they have been for many Years, it is to be expected, that the Saltash for the Ships at Plymouth, and at Oakhamnefs for those in the Dock Yards, will be forwarded as much as possible in the interim here estimated.
Ordinary Repairs	195,370 — —	150,000 — —	As the Fleet may be supposed in a few Years to be in a very forward State, a considerable decrease; which we have therefore ventured to put at this Sum. From the Experience of former Peace Establishments, the Expence of Repairs is not to be considered as an Object of Reduction.
Half Pay	193,000 — —	190,000 — —
Sick and Hurt	6,044 2 —	6,044 2 —	No Alteration, for the same Reasons as in the First Article.
O N T H E H E A D O F E X T R A.
Extra Repairs	810,000 — —	200,000 — —	The preceding Calculations are grounded on what may probably be the best Year for grounding a permanent Peace Establishment, in the Dock Yards will be forwarded as much as possible in the interim.
Total	2,137,095 1 2	1,762,545 6 6

Estimates of this Kind being always subject to a Variety of contingent Alterations, it is impossible to be as accurate; but as far as we can judge from the Experience of former Peace Establishments, the Expence of the Fleet, and Improvements in the Yards, we are hopeful, on a Supposition that 18,000 Men are kept complete, to be adequate to the greatest Demands of the Fleet on a permanent Peace Establishment, and probably more.

N. B. But in the Interval, before the Fleet can be put completely on the Footing here described, the Average here estimated; it cannot be stated exactly to what Extent, but we conceive they may amount to the Whole of the Four Years.

Appendix P. No. VI.

Navy Office,
20th March 1786.

An ACCOUNT of the Amount of any Extraordinary Expences included in the Estimates presented to the House in this present Session, beyond what may be expected to be the Average (as far as the Commissioners of the Navy are at present enabled to judge of the same) of the Services in that Department, on a permanent Peace Establishment. Prepared pursuant to a Precept of the Committee appointed to examine and state the several Accounts, and other Papers presented to the Honourable House of Commons, in this Session of Parliament, relating to the Public Income and Expenditure; dated the 15th Day of March 1786.

N. B. This Account is prepared on a Calculation of a permanent Peace Establishment taking place towards the End of the Year 1790, and contains the Reasons why some Articles cannot be expected to diminish, and why others may.

Heads of the Grants.	Sums granted for 1786.	Estimate of Average Expence on a permanent Peace Establishment.	Reasons for the Continuance of the same Sums on some Heads, and for a Decrease on others.
N ^o Seamen, 18,000	£. s. d. 936,000 — —	£. s. d. 936,000 — —	Should the same Number of Men here stated be kept complete, the Four Pounds per Man per Mensm, granted for the Seamen of the Navy, will be generally found inadequate to the Expence, even in Time of Peace, not only from the increased Price of Provisions, but from its being subject to several Demands, not otherwise provided for by Parliament; no Reduction, therefore can be expected on this Head.
O R D I N A R Y.
Salaries to the Lords of the Admiralty and Commissioners of the Navy	47,492 8 1	47,492 8 1	There is no Probability of this Article lessening, as the Increase of the Navy has naturally brought forward with it an Increase of Buildings, further Extensions of the Yards and Instruments, which must of course be continued for keeping Pace with the Business.
Pensions	37,269 14 8	34,000 — —
Charge of the Yards	25,405 18 6	25,405 18 6	May be expected in the Course of a few Years to decrease to this Sum.
Salaries and Pay of Officers of the Out Ports	4,508 6 11	4,508 6 11
Wages of Men borne in Ordinary	78,298 11 10	107,094 11 —	There is no Prospect of any Diminution on this Head, for the same Reasons as is given in the First Article of the Ordinary. This Article is as low as can be expected. These Two Articles are dependent on each other, and cannot, under the present Circumstances of the Fleet, be expected to diminish; we are hopeful, however, that when the Works of the Fleet are in greater forwardness, 5,000l. per Annum may be taken from them, to reduce them to the Sum here stated.
Victuals to Men borne in Ordinary	33,795 19 2
Harbour Moorings	69,910 — —	62,000 — —	The Increase of the Fleet has naturally brought an Increase of Expence on this Article; but as the Moorings are in a better State of Repair at present than they have been for many Years, it is to be hoped, that after some additional Moorings are laid down at Saltash for the Ships at Plymouth, and at Oakhamness for those in the River Medway, this Article may be decreased to the Sum here estimated.
Ordinary Repairs	195,370 — —	150,000 — —	As the Fleet may be supposed in a few Years to be in a very forward State of Repair, it is hoped the Expence on this Article will considerably decrease; which we have therefore ventured to put at this Sum.
Half Pay	193,000 — —	190,000 — —	From the Experience of former Peace Establishments, the Expence on this Head has decreased so insensibly as not to be looked on as an Object of Reduction.
Sick and Hurt	6,044 2 —	6,044 2 —	No Alteration, for the same Reasons as in the First Article.
O N T H E H E A D O F E X T R A.
Extra Repairs	810,000 — —	200,000 — —	The preceding Calculations are grounded on what may probably be the State of the Fleet towards the End of the Year 1790, and which we have taken as the best Year for grounding a permanent Peace Establishment upon, taking it for granted the Improvements in the Dock Yards will be forwarded as much as possible in the intermediate Time.
Total	2,437,095 1 2	1,762,545 6 6

Estimates of this Kind being always subject to a Variety of contingent Alterations, it is impossible to make any Calculation that can be depended upon as accurate; but as far as we can judge from the Experience of former Peace Establishments, compared with the present advanced State of the Fleet, and Improvements in the Yards, we are hopeful, on a Supposition that 18,000 Men are kept employed, that 1,800,000l. will be found adequate to the greatest Demands of the Fleet on a permanent Peace Establishment, and probably more.

N. B. But in the Interval, before the Fleet can be put completely on the Footing here described, the Grants for the Extra must necessarily exceed the Average here estimated; it cannot be stated exactly to what Extent, but we conceive they may amount to a Sum from 2,000,000l. to 2,400,000l. for the Whole of the Four Years.

Memorandum: There being a Deficiency on the Vote for the Difference between British and Irish Pay of Corps serving Abroad for the Years 1784, 1785, and 1786, about 3,000l. or 4,000l. more will be wanted to complete the Annual Charge.

Appendix Q. No. IV.

THE present Peace Establishment being considered as permanent, the probable Charge attending it must be considered as continuing the same, excepting as to such Diminutions as may in Time take place on the Articles of Half Pay, and Chelsea.

The Extraordinary Expences of the Army may probably be expected to be reduced below the Expence of the present Year, according to the Paper annexed to this Report.

Towards defraying these Services, it is difficult to state with Precision what Savings will accrue.—They must chiefly arise from the Sums voted upon Estimate for the Recruiting and Contingent Services, or from the Savings on Non-effectives; all of which must, from their Nature, be fluctuating. But it is probable, that supposing the Army to continue in these Respects in its present State, there may arise Savings to the Amount of about £. 40,000 per Annum, applicable to the defraying the Extraordinary Expences of the Army.
